JOSEPH M. FREEDMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
LYCEUM THEATRE BUILDING
MEMPHIS, TENN.

MEMPHIS, TENN.
MAR 21
7-P.M.
1917

2
DESOTO STA
D

U.S. POSTAGE
2 CENTS 2

Miss. Frances Levine,
70 Somers St.,
Brooklyn,
N. Y.

JOSEPH M. FREEDMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
LYCEUM THEATRE BUILDING
MEMPHIS, TENN.

March 21st, 1917.

My darling Frances:-

Yours of the 19th received and sure was glad to get it. Don't worry about the war situation, for if I must go, I'll go. No way in existence to get around it. Of course, I don't care to enlist because of my personal affairs, but if conscription comes in or any measure similar to it, why, they'll come & get me. Until that time comes, sweetheart, don't think of it.

As you asked me where I was Sunday, I'll tell you. I got up 10 A.M. ate my breakfast, went to the office, ate dinner; went to the movies until 8.30 P.M. when I went to the Orpheum. You may be sure that I didn't enjoy myself as if you were with me.

Now, toots, as to how much I love you, why I love you the highest number multiplied by itself and will always love until the day after never. Now, toots, figure it up.

Business has been fair, and I expect to put my uncle in bankruptcy in the near future and when I do, I think I'll make as a fee some-

JOSEPH M. FREEDMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
LYCEUM THEATRE BUILDING
MEMPHIS, TENN.

thing like $100.00. Oh, toots, if I only could get a couple of those $100 fels. It sure would come in handy, wouldn't it?

Well dear, I'll close now, with all my love to my own, sweet little Frances,

Lovingly

Regards to your folks.